Moodle & Techie Tuesday P.1

Library Data Wrap-Up P.2

Moodle Training Tuesday May 15!

Want to learn how to use Moodle to manage or supplement your class online? Come to the library for our next Techie Tuesday on May 15 during your planning or after school from 2:30-3:30.

Still confused about what Moodle is? Here are a few things it can do:

- Keep all relevant classroom files and assignments in one place
- Create a calendar that displays upcoming events and due dates for students
- Make an announcement forum where all relevant updates are seen
- Post links to other helpful websites
- Set up wikis that allow students to add and edit content on the site
- Start an open discussion forums keep conversations going beyond regular school hours
- Store all class content (documents, videos, pictures) in one place

Still curious? Visit <http://bit.ly/loPrPJ> for a video tutorial or come to Techie Tuesday.

Want to check it out now? Go to <http://moodle.bristol.k12.ct.us> and login in the top right corner. Use your Novell username and password. Once at that site, you'll see a list of courses. For practice and as a place for all of us to share strategies, I created a class called Student Centered Strategies (Nov 2011 PDD). I've added the presentations and documents from many workshops from PDD and with each topic, I've included a discussion forum/blog area where you can comment.

Once you are ready to make a class, get in touch with me so I can have the BOE change your account settings!
